

Date 13 July 2014. Black Sugarloaf, Birrale (big tree track).

Habitat: Closed wet Eucalypt forest.

Substrate: large bryophyte-covered stump north of big tree stump. Description gregarious and scattered stalked sporangia, to 1 mm high, orange-brown. Sporotheca globose, 0.5 mm diameter. Stalk black, grooved, 0.6 mm long; reddish brown by transmitted light. Hypothallus contiguous under close sporangia, membranous, reddish, shiny. Peridium membrane is fugacious between the net except for small calyculus in some sporangia. Approximately 15 strong ribs at base merging into net without conspicuous nodes. Spores orange in mass, pale by transmitted light, faintly warted, 7  $\mu$ m. Notes: Keys out to C. ferruginea in Nann.-Bremek. (1991). Several collections.

